L. REGARDING RELOCATION OF CHILD

If the person with whom the child resides a majority of the times plans to move, the person shall give notice to every person entitled to court ordered time with the child.

Outside school district:

If the move is outside the child(ren)'s school district, the relocating person must given notice by personal service or by mail requiring a return receipt. This notice must be at least 60 days before the intended move. If the relocating person could not have known about the move in time to give 60 days notice, that person must give notice within 5 days after learning of the move. The notice must contain a proposed new residential schedule.

Within school district:

If the move is within the same school district, the relocating person must provide actual notice by any reasonable means. A person entitled to time with the child may not object to the move but may ask for modification of the residential schedule.

Notice may be delayed for 21 days if the relocating person is entering a domestic violence shelter or is moving to avoid a clear, immediate and unreasonable risk to health and safety.

If the information is protected under a court order or the address confidentiality program, it may be withheld from the notice.

A relocating person may ask the court to waive any notice requirements that may put the health and safety of a person or a child at risk.

Failure to give the required notice may be grounds for sanctions, including contempt.

If no objection is filed within 30 days after service of the notice of intended relocation, the relocation will be permitted and the proposed revised residential schedule may be confirmed.

A person entitled to time with a child under a court order can file an objection to the child(ren)'s relocation whether or not he or she received proper notice.

Objection

The objection must be served on all persons entitled to time with the child.

The relocating person shall not move the child during the time for objection unless: a) the delayed notice provisions apply; or b) a court order allows the move.

If the objecting person schedules a hearing for a date within 15 days of timely service of the objection, the relocating person shall not move the child before the hearing unless there is a clear, immediate and unreasonable risk to the health or safety of a person or a child.
